Message From The Commodore Keith Moore

CIYC's Opening Day Is upon us - April 6. Dave Wardlow and his shipshape crews are detailing our club in preparation for this event. Frank Sullivan is conducting the Bristol Boat inspections. Tom Warden has arranged for the British Brass Band to play in our ceremony. Kristal McPherson will sing and members from the Point Mugu Trident Patrol will conduct the flag ceremony. The RAMs will cook the hot dogs. And the Islanders will prepare all the food and are decorating the Club with a SURF CITY theme. The band..... well, we just have to have some surprises, so you'll have to come to hear and dance to our Surprise band....!

A touch of the Irish.....The St. Patrick's Day Social by Joyce Sheridan and Barbara Brauns featured the young Irish dancers from Greenway Academy. Bill and Vera Cline prepared a great traditional Corn Beef & Cabbage dinner.

Mary Ann and I carried the CIYC flag to the many Yacht Club Opening Day ceremonies in the Marina Del Rey Harbor. We were pleased to learn that CIYC is well known and respected for our yachting participation in Southern California. We met many that commented, "CIYC has the best Opening Day decorations and food of any Yacht Club Opening Day event!"

We also met with the Commodores from PCYC, Harbor Island and Anacapa. Our discussions raised the question, "Is there something that all the Yacht clubs in Channel Island Harbor could do together?" One suggestion: conduct a Channel Islands Harbor Solstice Electric Boat Regatta. We would schedule it on the longest day of the year – Saturday, June 21. Everyone with an electric boat would be invited to participate. They would motor around the harbor carrying passengers for as long as possible. Each yacht club would provide a dock to log the boats passage and provide for the change of crews and passengers. The electric boat that accumulated the greatest number of passenger miles wins the Regatta! The Commodores were very interested in this idea, and the CIYC Board approved to develop this concept. So, stay tuned and if you are interested in participating, call and share your ideas.

See you on Deck!

Holey moley, we're jumping right in to spring. By the time you read this, we will be a week away from opening day.

I would like to say thank you to those who have helped with ship shaping our club. It will be sparkling by April 6th.

Thanks to Don and Denise Dickey for resurrecting the Oscar party. It was well received and attended.

A week later Chef Don Dickey and crew served a fabulous Maine lobster dinner, which again was a sell out. Thank you for those that volunteered to help get the food out in a timely manner. It was another success for the Anglers event, which supports our white sea bass growout program and other activities.

The St. Patrick's social was another great evening, hosted by Barbara Brauns, Joyce Sheridan, and Chef Vera Cline and crew. The Irish dancers were a hit.

We have Carter Gage and the Bridge Club cooking things on the following Saturday night. And last, but not least, Epicureans dinner the last Saturday of the month. Thank you all for cooking and supporting our club.

A big thank you to Mary Foster and daughter Debbie for their countless hours getting through the computer accounting issue with the help of Brenda Golkin. We are back on track and better prepared for any further issues. Thank you for your patience.

Looking forward to sharing our Opening Day with all of you.

Best Regards

Message From The Rear-Commodore Vidar Bech

Weather, bad and good.

Our Luncheon Cruise to Frenchy's Cove on Anacapa was canceled due to stormy weather conditions; however, it behaved nicely for the burial at sea for Gary Johnson's mother, Olga Hokom, which turned out beautiful. It was a good turnout of about 10 boats and the sea calmed down just in time for the burial. Some higher power was looking out for us.

The Wild Bill Rig Race.

Our RAM & PRO Bill Brayton has presented our club with a Deed of Gift to have The Wild Bill Rig Race. The Board of Directors has decided to do this race as part of the Port Royal Regatta since that is an ASBCYC sanctioned race. The Port Royal Regatta was originally deeded by our Staff Commodores Voss and McPherson. Bill is supplying a new Perpetual Trophy and awards for this Race and it will be held on April 12 together, with the Port Royal Regatta.

Did Anybody See Them?

The Whale Watching Cruise March 30 has happened by the time you read this, and I hope it was exciting and somebody had some good stories to tell. (Sorry we could not make it; my wife tells me we have a family, our grandson turned 20.)

There is a cruise planned for April 26 and 27 to Scorpion with diving, kayaking, hiking and fun activities ashore, something for everybody. In addition, Wet-Wednesdays have started (March 19) for the 2014 season. An excellent way of practicing your racing skills and having fun.

West Mark Buoy Missing.

Sometime in February, this marker buoy went missing. It was recently refurbished by PCYC and put back out by CIYC. Many people have been asked to look for it from the air and sea, including the USCG, but so far no luck. Our PRO Bill Brayton has taken on the responsibility of making a new one. Our Director Don Dickey and his son Matt went out with Frank Sullivan on the Valkyrie to the coordinates of the marker, dove down to about 60ft trying to locate the anchor for the buoy, on the second attempt they found it and tied a marker to it. What a super job! With such dedicated members of our club, there will be a replacement marker in place very soon. Stay tuned for progress.

Announcements:

The Board of Directors elected Harry Krum to be our RAM Captain and Leanne Clark to be our Dive Captain, so all RAMs and Divers in our club: Take Notice.

The Newport to Ensenada Race starts on April 25, hopefully CIYC will make a good showing. (I might be going.)

Message From First Mate Vera Cline

Greetings Channel Islanders,

We are fast approaching Opening Day 2014 on April 6th. Plans are underway for decorating the dining salon into a surfer's paradise. I guarantee a few surprises!! I am continuously impressed with the talent and imagination of our members. Many thanks to Mary Ann Moore, Pam Nast, Joyce Sheridan, Sharon Sullivan and Dann Daggett for their contribution of ideas and the labors of dedicated volunteers to take a vision of "Surfing USA" and make it a reality. Also, with the generous donations of surfer memorabilia and beachy surfer relics from the general membership, we are keeping our decoration budget to a minimum. Thank you all for participation.

Hot off the KCIYC radio show from the 2013 Talent Show: CIYC's very own surfer band which includes Curt Ingram and Larry Stein will be playing several sets of classic surfer tunes. I have personally requested the theme from "Hawaii 50" – which I am sure will get EVERYONE'S attention.

The Opening Day Food Committee has selected all NEW RECIPES!!! Fourteen different appetizers will be offered to our guests. The new selection of delectable finger foods is gourmet - worthy in every respect. Every food group will be represented – choice of meats, seafood, vegetables and fruits. A memorable feast!! The food platters will be artfully plated by Opal Gilpin and Deborah Tyhurst with their beautifully executed carved food garnishes. By popular demand, Carole Naylor will be providing her scrumptious Deviled Eggs which are always gobbled up immediately! Many thanks to Joyce Sheridan, Karen Farrell, and Linda McCulley for heading up the food selection committee. Due to their expertise in the kitchen and researching and testing of the new recipes, every offering will be a masterpiece. Also, thanks to the many, many volunteers from the Channel Islanders and Epicureans whose skillful fingers will be preparing these lovely delights.

See you on Opening Day, April 6th!!!

Anglers' Corner April 2014

By Frank Sullivan

WSB grow out pen update:

They're gone!! But not to worry, more are coming.

We released approx. 7000 fish Wednesday night on the outgoing tide 3-12-14 21:00 hrs. The Fish looked good, and there were no Sea Lions hanging around. We had at least 20 people there to help and or observe. Best turn out so far. Took us less than an hour for the release and clean up. I don't have room to thank everybody but we had both CIYC members and support from local fishing clubs there to help or watch. I'm told that we should expect the next Cohort of approximately 35,000 fingerlings this month. They will be so small, special nets will be delivered with them. We have received much praise for the quality of fish we released this time. We intend to keep it up.

Thanks to Don Dickey and the BeefEaters we had a hugely successful Angler's Lobster Dinner with over 100 supporters dining on fresh Maine Lobsters. It was a great fundraiser for the Angler's programs!

Fishing:

The recreational fishery for white seabass remains open year round. The daily bag and possession limit is three fish, except that only one fish may be taken in waters south of Point Conception between March 15 and June 15. The minimum size limit is 28 inches total length or 20 inches alternate length.

During the '1' fish limit season there is a temptation to catch and release these fish. That is NOT a good idea. WSB DO NOT RELEASE WELL – tears in swim bladder if brought up from below 60 ft (40 ft. is probable); and bladder tears will result, even if hooked near the surface if they dive to those depths during the fight. Even touching these fish can cause irreparable damage (hatchery folk say their handprint burn is visible on WSB skin just a day or so after handling) and these fish eventually die. If you grab them by the jawbone to extract the hook, it breaks easily. Don't be fooled by the size they attain – they are delicate. And the bigger they are, the less likely they are to survive a release. The fish are spent, bloated, and that's what makes them the easiest fish to gaff solo.

Bend Over

Well, that's embarrassing! And that is one of many reasons why the prostatic specific antigen (PSA) test was introduced. This is a protein produced by prostate cancer that can be detected by a blood test. Particular PSA levels reflect the presence of prostate cancer, its size, and aggressiveness.

The problem is that other prostatic conditions, especially those found in older men, such as benign enlargement (BPH), acute or chronic inflammation (prostatitis), and even an aggressive digital rectal examination, can raise the PSA level. And that's why PSA is not a very reliable or specific diagnostic test for the presence of prostate cancer.

Well, one could use more expensive tests, such as trans-rectal ultrasound or trans-rectal MRI, but even those tests are not very specific. This is why urologists will usually perform a needle biopsy of a suspected lump to confirm the diagnosis. It's similar to the biopsy of a lump discovered on a mammogram. Of course, one hopes the urologist will place the tip of the needle in the lump, and not accidentally sample surrounding normal tissues.

See how it gets complicated? Enter the Swedes. They questioned what the chances were for elderly men to die of prostate cancer, rather than from other ailments associated with old age. If they're dying from other diseases, why bother treating prostate cancers? After all, over the age of 80, most men have a small, non-life-threatening prostate cancer. This is called a cost/benefit analysis. It relies heavily on statistics. Governments and insurance agencies love it.

Now enter the Brits. They knew that cancers produce a protein called EN2. But rather than looking for it in the blood, they looked for it in urine samples. After all, the prostate drains via numerous small channels into the urethra, and it's likely that EN2 will be found in the urine. And they were right. This test is cheap and twice as accurate as PSA. It is now undergoing large clinical trials and may become available within a year.

Because this stuff is a bit complicated, the best course of action is to listen to your doctor. But, as always, it pays to be informed.

Your Fleet Surgeon, Zoran

A Nautical Libation

Grog is a deceptively small and simple-looking word, but it has an interesting history. To track it down we have to go back to George Washington and his oldest half-brother, Lawrence Washington. Lawrence, 14 years older than George, was a captain in a Virginia regiment that sailed to the Caribbean as part of a British attack on Spain. The target was Cartagena (on the coast of modern-day Columbia). Despite an overwhelming British naval force of 186 ships, the siege was unsuccessful.

Lawrence resented British General Thomas Wentworth who kept most of the Virginians onboard the ships and wouldn't let them fight. Wentworth didn't have confidence in the fighting ability of the "colonials." In contrast, Lawrence greatly admired British Admiral Edward Vernon who headed up the mission. The admiral was very popular with his British sailors in the Royal Navy - in fact, they had a nickname for him: Old Grog. The name derived from the fact that the admiral invariably wore a coat made of grogram. What is grogram, you ask? It's a rough material made of silk, usually with wool or mohair added, and stiffened with gum. The word comes from the French: gros grain (literally having a gross "grain" – that is, a rough texture).

Old Grog worked on improving naval procedures throughout his career with the British Admiralty. This included making gun drills more efficient and figuring out how better to handle fleets in battle. So it's no surprise that Old Grog felt he could improve on the tradition of giving each sailor a daily portion of rum. The admiral thought it would be better to add hot water, thus diluting the rum. Old Grog had this bright idea in 1740, but the downside was that water had a foul taste! The solution was to improve the drink by adding some juice of a lemon or lime. It eventually became apparent to the British Admiralty that Admiral Vernon's sailors were healthier. No one knew why until 1747 when Scottish physician James Lind proved that scurvy could be treated - and even prevented - by adding citrus such as lemons or limes to a person's diet. The cruel suffering and deaths resulting from scurvy ended, and by the late 1800's British sailors were often nicknamed "Limeys."

Thanks to Old Grog's concern for his sailors, we still recall Admiral Edward Vernon today by referring to this hot rum drink as grog. Interestingly, the tradition of providing a daily "tot of rum" to British sailors continued until July 31st, 1970.

In 1752 Lawrence Washington died of tuberculosis at the young age of 33 or 34. Nine years earlier, in 1743, he had moved his bride into the family home, Epsewasson, overlooking the Potomac River. This is when he renamed the farm Mount Vernon in honor of Old Grog, the admiral he so highly esteemed.

Lawrence Washington's will stipulated that, upon the death of his widow and daughter, Mount Vernon would pass to his young half-brother - George Washington.

CIYC Interview with Bill and Melodie Crier

Bill and Melodie Crier are great people who recently joined our CIYC family. They found us because they were looking for a facility to rent. Bill said “Melodie has a friend who had previously rented the dining room and she suggested we call Sharon about renting this space. Melodie and I came to the club to rent the dining room for a craft show and met Frank and Sharon Sullivan who talked about the club and the benefits of joining. We are delighted that they were persuasive enough to convince us to join, we've thoroughly enjoyed every moment we've been here.” (Thanks Frank and Sharon, you helped us get some great new members!)

Even though they do not own a boat, Bill and Melodie enjoy being on the water. Bill says, “I was in the U.S. Navy for nine years, my indoctrination into going to sea. I enjoyed it, I think, because of the different ports we pulled into during cruises. I also had friends in Hawaii and Florida who had sail boats and we would go sailing on weekends. Although I didn't know much about sailing, still don't, I really enjoyed it.

Melodie and I were in San Juan, Puerto Rico and we took a catamaran over to St. John, U.S. Virgin Islands, which I think was her first time on a boat. Since we have been members at CIYC, we have met the most wonderful people and have been offered many opportunities to go on trips with them. We recently enjoyed a trip out to the islands with Tom and Leslie Webb on their power boat. Boat ownership isn't necessary to become a member at CIYC because boat rides will be offered for all events.”

Even if you don't own a boat, doesn't mean you can't think about it. I asked Bill what would be his ideal boat. He said “A power boat large enough for at least three state rooms, realistic huh, and comfortable enough to take long trips with friends and/or family. It would be very modern with all of the bells and whistles and, of course, very mechanically reliable.”

If you could cast off the dock lines for an extended period, where would you go?

Probably Hawaii. I would like to say South America but things are a bit unstable.

Would you like to get involved in any of the groups at CIYC, join in the activities?

I am a member of the Beefeaters and I have even helped cook a meal already. Melodie and I have been really involved with decorating during the holidays and setting up for dinners and other events held in the dining room. Melodie will join the Epicureans and join in the services they provide to the club.

Would you recommend CIYC to friends? What would you tell them about the club?

Melodie and I have recommended CIYC to friends and we have two, maybe three, prospective members. We tell people they will never meet a stranger here at CIYC. Everyone is so friendly and open and are willing to help with advice, explaining things you may not understand and introduce you to other members so that as a new member you will always have someone available to assist you. The events that are held here are outstanding and are so much fun for everyone, i.e. Super Bowl Party, Oscar Party and the upcoming talent show. We make this known to all we meet.

If you have any other thoughts, please share them.

CIYC Interview with Ron Mahan

Ron Mahan is a new CIYC member who lives aboard his Perry 41.

Ron says he joined CIYC because “I was seeking a venue to socialize with friends and people who shared my love for the ocean, sailing and for the great marine conservation efforts they represent. Also, I was seeking a place for “liquid communication” where members and guests can share their tall tales of the sea in a “Cheers” like environment.”

He discovered the club while running one morning when he was new to the area. Following that, he met a couple of members at Edge Fitness..... The rest is history.

I asked Ron how he got interested in boating. He said “I grew up in a rural Ohio town and was given a Sunfish and spent my summers at a local lake from the age of 14 teaching myself to sail. I was hooked!!”

Ron’s first “real” boat was an 1969 Ericson 30. He recently acquired his live aboard 1983 Perry 41 sailboat. She is lying in Channel Islands Harbor. He says his ideal boat would be “a combination of a boat with traditional lines and a warm feel while blending decent performance underway. Bob Perry has done this with success in many of his designs.” Ron’s one of the lucky sailors whose ideal boat seems to be the one he has.

I asked Ron “if you could cast off the dock lines for an extended period, where would you go?” He replied “I lived aboard a few boats during my 10 years in Hawaii. I would cast off for the southern tip of Baha California, then the Hawaiian Islands, most likely venturing further south to the tropical paradises of the South Pacific. For now, it's “our” islands.”

Ron says he would like to be involved with CIYC’s sailing activities and be involved with introducing and mentoring new sailors to our wonderful sport.

In response to asking if he would recommend CIYC to friends, and what would he tell them about the club, Ron enthusiastically said “Absolutely!!! I would invite them to a night at the club. I don't think further convincing would be needed for those seeking a fun and lively social outlet.”

Ron has already made numerous friends and is fitting right into our family. I’ve enjoyed hanging out with him and he’ll be a great addition to our sailing family.
